can. Come Lids go now yes i have been ^{here} some time wedy is Kellie where is Lilly i have not seen since she came are you going up stairs if you are tell her to come to me i want to see her

Lilly darling you are a good child but come go now and I wrapped your shif for ten your mother is waiting for you

Mr Baxter the Bar tender

~~yes~~ hear. come back ^{here} you aint played the game out yet — you didnt — come on here to knock us on head i see what matter is you are a afraid of being beat — ~~we~~ send that devilish thing out of here and come da up your business ^{Like a man} dont ^{get} down hearted at that foolish nonsense come on you go shore and let your father be

Baxter
rife Look it went wrong

Baxter takes up a bottle brandy at words and runs him and hit the child until she falls to the full there take that you miserable Bumper and get out of me shop

Enter Mary in surprise James goes to meet her tak her hand set her down beside him M^y why James are you here

M^y O James I wish you would leave off your wicked ways before it is to late O for my sakes and for ^{your} darling child your only one what it is one clock and she has not come yet this is the time that I have ask him to spend another noon at home with me I wish that he would be here when Lilly comes home

Order Lilly with moment and cope yes darling I am real glad to see you how have you enjoyed yourself to your grandpa

O James I wish ^{you} would leave off your wicked ways before it is to late O for my sake and for your darling to hold your only one

I left her in the dining room with Mary O do not talk of going home what shall I do with you where have you been Lizzy and what is it you have seen do tell me

Lizzy you cannot make me feel any worse then I am now do not keep it from me do tell me please tell me was any thing about James Lifts up both hands

O great heavens save him he knows not what he does

Lilly how did you know that he was there Lizzy that child is like an angle angles are not afraid to go any where I can trust her

O Nellie I have

Nellie Lilaing on the stage in a rocking chair or rocky her self Enter aunt Lilaing

well Nellie are you here where is Lilly

O Nellie I think my visit has been long enough with you I must go home now I see so much it fairly making heart sick I wish I could have you and little Lilly at your house you know it is so much more healthy there then it is here if it is in the country

O it will make you feel so bad I cant tell you yes I saw him in the old den of Baxter baby carter and drinking as though he never was going Lilly well ~~James~~ James have you come at last - where is Nellie you are a great husband to be sure been here all this time and ~~just~~ ~~found out~~ and I just want to know where Nellie is if you want to know I can soon tell you she is up & hearts breaking her heart almost for you if ~~it is~~ Lilly had as of of come here this after noon I dont know what she would of done that child is a great comfort to our mother to good to live in this world

So for my part I am tired of ^{him} see him a lot so I thought - after ~~that~~ talking to so would keep him from going there any more

O Nellie how can you let her go in such a place as that - it is so stuff-less in you well it is true she does seem like angle child i wish i could be like her, well come ^{a little} by melle go and lie down a while rest-it may do you some ~~you~~ good and they come i will call you they go out

Q. Come quick as you can help & dying

~~Can afford that~~

O James life goes woe's Bay day only to think she has talk to you and cry for over you and now she has done her last given her life and is almost gone

O James think for a moment think what a dreadful crime this is — we're and falls and Annie faints. We take her in in arms carry her out slowly music plays soft curtain falls

Miss Monroe

I would like to become your husband on one condition and that is if you will make me a good wife

I Would Like for you if you are Willing to give me a nice Dress and a cote of Cloth and that is all i ask and if you do i will thank you kindly

Mary Lizzie

I Love thee sent down

I have got to fulfil my promises when i makes them But at the same time you did not give me an answer about what i asked you if you will give me that i will be very thankful to you

I am Yours ~~and~~ expecting ng to be with ill death

David Augustus Clarke

you said that if I could make you a good wife i do it I know what is in the future and you know you have made me this promise and I want you to fulfill it and then i can tell you better about the wife part

I will make you this present as soon as i possibly can i would like you to write one when you get the morning
